The dead totaled 14 when the locomotive of the Missouri Pacific's second section (left) telescoped through the rear car (right) of the train's first section on the St. Louis-to-Kansas City run. One of the dead is believed to be Mrs. Alexander W. Weddell, wife of the former ambassador to Spain.

Helen Kirkpatrick Speaker For Town Hall On Jan. 12

One of America's most famous and oft-quoted woman foreign correspondents, Helen Kirkpatrick of the New York Post, will appear here on Jan. 12 at the Salem Town Hall meeting in the High School auditorium.

URGES PROBE OF MARSHALL PLAN

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 3—A non-partisan survey of the Marshall plan's probable impact on the American economy was urged today by Senator Wiley (R-Wis.).

Wiley, a member of the senate foreign relations committee, said he believes Chairman Vandenberg made a good move in asking the Brookings Institution for a report on the best way to administer the aid to 16 Western European nations.

But he said he thinks the findings of the privately financed research organization should be broadened to include "an estimate on how these proposed exports to foreign countries are going to affect us at home."

Draws Approval
Vandenberg's action also was applauded by Senators Brooks (R-Ill.) and Taft (R-Ohio), both critics of President Truman's proposal for a four-year, $17,000,000,000 outlay, and Speaker of the House Martin (R-Mass.).

Brooks, who has called for a "business" administration of the aid program divorced from the state department, said he would also welcome a study by "any authoritative group which can tell us how best we can use our resources to give incentive to production abroad."

Taft told a news conference yesterday he doesn't like President Truman's proposal for a program administrator and roving ambassador abroad "because it makes the administration practically a bureau in the state department and I think it should be a separate agency."

"I would like an administrator who is looking just as much to the economic welfare of the United States as he is to the economic welfare of Europe," Taft declared.

While this debate on the form of the Marshall plan went on among returning legislators, Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, urged that congress "sink our teeth into it however unpleasant the taste."

her motoring over some 2,000 miles through the American zone of Germany and the American and French zones of Austria.

In March she visited Poland and went on to Moscow—the second time within a year she had been in Russia—to attend the meetings of the Foreign Ministers' council. Upon her return to America in the fall, she covered the sessions of the U. N. General Assembly in New York and then made a quick trip back to London to report again on the meetings of the Foreign Ministers' council.

Before she resigned her post as chief of the Paris bureau of the Chicago Daily News in 1946 to become the New York Post's foreign columnist, Miss Kirkpatrick covered sessions of the Council of Foreign Ministers and the Paris Peace conference in the French capital. She also reported the progress of the Palestine conference in London and went on an extended tour of the French and British zones of Germany.

Covered Battlefronts
An analyst of world affairs, her experience covering Europe has included such points of conflagration as Prague during the crisis, Spain, the Balkans, Poland, Italy, France. During the war she cabled dispatches from most of Europe's major fighting fronts. In London during the Battle of Britain she was blitzed out of her home and once was blown bodily through a doorway by a bomb explosion.

Before joining the staff of the Chicago Daily News Foreign Service in 1939 as its only woman foreign correspondent, Helen Kirkpatrick founded and published the famed Whitehall News Letter in London.

Amidst all her duties as a war correspondent, this slender, gracious American woman, still in her thirties, found time to write two penetrating books, "This Terrible Peace" and "Under the British Umbrella."

SEE SUPREME COURT BATTLE

Labor Union Threatens To Take NLRB Ruling To Highest Courts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3—The first union to be held guilty of an unfair labor practice under the Taft-Hartley act pledged today to "fight the case all the way to the U. S. supreme court if necessary."

Herbert G. B. King, attorney for Local 73 of the AFL Carpenters union at Chattanooga, Tenn., said he will go to the limit in opposing a ruling handed down here yesterday by J. J. Fitzpatrick, an examiner of the National Labor Relations Board.

Fitzpatrick held that Local 74 engaged in a secondary boycott, banned by the new labor law as an unfair labor practice, by calling a strike of union carpenters when non-union flooring installers came to work along side them on a Chattanooga home remodeling job.

Unfairness Charged
The filing of unfair labor practice charges was limited under the old Wagner act to those against employers only. The Taft-Hartley law permitted them to be filed against unions, too, for the first time.

In another precedent-setting decision, Federal Judge Stephen W. Brennan issued the first injunction under the Taft-Hartley law at Utica, N. Y., yesterday against Local 294 of the AFL Teamsters Union.

The injunction restrains the local from continuing six alleged unfair labor practices—including one of so-called "feather-bedding," or requiring an employer to pay for work not performed—until the NLRB here can decide if the local was "unfair."

Local 294 was accused of demanding that the Conway Express Company of Pittsfield, Mass., pay the union an amount equal to the wages of a union member as penalty for allowing a non-union member to drive a truck from New Britain, Conn., to Cleveland, O., last September.

Judge Brennan held that Montgomery Ward and Company at Menands, near Albany, N. Y., was also entitled to an injunction against the teamsters local on the basis of a charge of a secondary boycott.

But the court said it was unnecessary to issue for the time being because the local was restrained from engaging in secondary boycotts, under terms of the Conway Company injunction.

Halts Business, Charge
In the Chattanooga case, Examiner Fitzpatrick ruled that the carpenters' strike had the object of forcing the home remodeler, George D. Stanley, to "cease doing business" with the flooring installation firm, Watson's specialty store, which had a contract to do the work.

But Fitzpatrick held that the carpenter's local did not call the strike to force the non-union workers to join the union, as had also been charged.

In still another action under the new labor law, the NLRB's regional office at New York last night issued a complaint charging restraint and coercion of employees against the AFL International Typographical union and its locals in New York, Chicago, Detroit and Pittsburgh.

Add Election Oaths
COLUMBUS, Jan. 3—Ohio election boards yesterday were authorized by Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel to add an oath to candidacy petitions now being circulated.

Hummel said he had discovered the omission in the forms issued by his office. The oath forms, said Hummel, must be attached to petitions of all candidates for county, state and federal offices.

CONSTRUCTION GAIN IN CITY IN '47 SHOWN

New Building Valuation Set At $967,518; New Homes Total 91

The post-war construction boom seems to have arrived in Salem, as a survey of the city's building permit records reveals an outstanding gain in home building and industrial and commercial expansion made during 1947.

Mayor R. R. Johnson issued 200 permits last year, 41 more than in the previous year, for a total valuation of $967,518. This was an increase of $411,813 over the 1946 permit valuation.

Boosting the total was a $175,000 building project by the Salem City hospital, which features a three-story addition to the present building, to be ready early in the spring. Also, a 36-home, $218,000 housing project by the Salem Building, Co. added impetus to the activity. The new homes, the collars for which have been dug, will be on the extension of E. Sixth st.

91 New Homes
In all, 91 permits were taken out for new dwellings, along with five new apartment houses. Not included in the above figures is an estimated $200,000 being expended on new homes outside the corporate limits of Salem, and the $260,000 Buckeye ave. eight-room school now under construction.

Seventeen industrial or commercial firms secured permits for new construction, and 10 others sought repairs to their property.

A recapitulation shows: New homes—91 permits, $549,850 valuation.

Home repairs—53 permits, $32,628 valuation.

Industrial-commercial construction—17 permits, $338,710 valuation.

Industrial-commercial repairs—10 permits, $31,760 valuation.

Garage construction—29 permits, $14,570 valuation.

Harmony Is Keynote As City Officials Hold Dinner Party

Thirty-nine members of the city's official family and guests attended the biennial dinner of city council Friday evening at the Lape hotel.

The solons bid farewell to retiring First Councilman Arch Wentz and Council Clerk Paul B. "Judy" Myers and welcomed George Chappell, new second ward councilman.

Wentz and Myers, introduced by Toastmaster Henry L. Reese, city solicitor, gave brief talks, thanking members of the city family for cooperation and companionship during their respective years of service.

Wentz, a Republican, has served eight years. Myers, also a Republican and a former third ward councilman, has been clerk 10 years. He is not seeking re-appointment.

The theme of the evening was one of harmony among officials for the new two-year term.

Mayor R. R. Johnson, Chappell and Reese also spoke as did Charles Rheutan, councilman-at-large for 16 years, and P. J. Dean, Perry township trustee and a former councilman.

Rev. George C. Beebe of the Methodist church gave the invocation.

Clearing Weather Due After Blustery Entry Of 1948 Causes Trouble

A week-end of clearing weather for the storm-swept eastern half of the nation was in prospect today as communities whipped by sleet, snow and rain storms worked to restore business and industrial operations to normal.

Snow had abated today in nearly all sections of the country which had been lashed by this winter's most destructive and crippling storm.

Damages to property were expected to total millions of dollars, while the deaths of at least 16 persons were reported in the New England states and the New York metropolitan area. Other fatalities attributed to the storm were reported in the midwest region.

Salem escaped the snow flurries, but a light drizzle fell here Friday evening and froze on windshields and roads, making driving precarious. Everyone apparently was unusually careful, however, for the state patrol reported no accidents on district highways.

The federal weather bureau in Chicago reported snow flurries only in parts of New England and a freezing drizzle in sections of Ohio and Indiana. There were no indications of new falls of snow or rain immediately throughout the storm belt which stretched from the Texas Panhandle to the North Atlantic seaboard.

Temperatures Rising
Temperatures in the midwest snow and ice belt were expected to rise at or above the freezing mark over the week-end, while they were expected to remain at about normal levels in the eastern section.

Hundreds of communities remained without telephone or light service, which was disrupted by the snapping of wires from the weight of ice or from the strong winds which accompanied the storm.

The break in power lines also left thousands without heat or cooking facilities. Railroad, motor and plane travel also was disrupted, but was returning to near normal in many midwest cities.

New York City, hit by the ice storm, escaped a heavy snow fall as the storm swept out to sea. However, thousands in the metropolitan area suffered the discomforts of darkness and cold from the icy siege which hit the nation's largest city one week after its record-breaking snow fall.

In the heavily populated New York-New Jersey area hundreds of wires were down and the New York stock exchange, the curb exchange and the cotton exchange suspended today's business because of the storm conditions. The Chicago and Boston stock exchanges also were closed today.

Postoffice Receipts Show Biggest Gain Here In '47

Postal receipts established a new high at the Salem postoffice during 1947, with an increase of $13,473.85 being shown over the previous year's income.

Total receipts for last year amounted to $150,888.93. Postmaster A. E. Beardmore reported, compared to 1946's business which totaled $137,215.07.

Last month's Christmas mailing rush helped to set a new December peak. This, coupled with year-end purchases of postage by some of the larger users of mail service, brought in a total of $27,111.61, a gain of $4,691.47 over the corresponding month a year ago.

Ten months last year showed gains in postal receipts. A comparative summary follows:

CANCER DRIVE IN COUNTY PLANNED
Plans for a Columbiana county campaign next April in behalf of the American Cancer society have been formulated by a committee of medical leaders from Salem and other towns and cities in the district.

These include Walter Bailey, superintendent of Salem City hospital, Dr. A. P. Falkenstein, pathologist for city hospitals and the Central Clinic, Dr. H. B. McGuire, county health commissioner, and Mrs. Stanley Galeski of East Liverpool, who is head of the Cancer society's Columbiana county unit.

A meeting of the group will be held within the next month, it is announced.

City hospital has received valuable instruments to aid in the diagnosis and study of cancer to help in the war against the disease. The hospital is now equipped with an autotomograph, an instrument for the processing of tissue. This speeds up the diagnosis where cancer is suspected.

Her Killer Hunted

Cleveland police are hunting a maniacal killer in the murder of 8-year-old Sheila Ann Tuley, whose stabbed and battered body, right arm broken, was found on a porch a block from her home. A bloodstained front window, through which a Christmas tree gleamed, indicated she clawed at the glass for help during the approximate hour and a half between the attack and the time her body was found.

$1,066 IN LOOT TAKEN FROM CARS

Tourists' Automobiles At Salem, Lisbon Hotels Burglarized

Police officials and the Columbiana county sheriff's office today are investigating four robberies in Salem and Lisbon, which took place sometime Friday night.

Four tourists' automobiles were broken into and goods and clothing valued at $1,066 taken.

Two of the cars, owned by Dr. Peter B. Golden of Marysville and Clifford Kierlin of Des Moines, Ia., were parked in front of the Metzger hotel on E. State st., when looted.

Dr. Golden reported a loss of golf clubs and bag, woman's suit and coat and a man's coat, all valued at about $195.

Kirwin said $379 in clothing, belonging to himself and Lauren Clark of Gettysburg, Pa., both Drake university students, was taken from his car.

Both cars ransacked in Lisbon were parked in the illuminated parking lot at the rear of the Wick hotel, police said.

Two men's suits, a sport coat, an overcoat, a raincoat, valued at $200, a briefcase and government check for $27 were taken from the car of Walter Umbreit, Jr., of Franklin, Pa.

Mrs. Irene Lasher of Lansing, Mich., reported the loss of a $165 sewing machine and $100 worth of clothing.

Authorities believe the four robberies to be the work of the same parties.

Lab of City Hospital Wins Continued Approval

The laboratory department of Salem City hospital has been granted continued approval for the performance of its pre-marital and prenatal blood tests for the ensuing year.

The lab was approved in July, 1947, by the Ohio Health department, Columbus, after successful performance of a series of control tests sent in by this department, Hospital Superintendent Walter Bailey announced.

Philadelphia To Get Top Deal On New Police Cars

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3—The city of Philadelphia is going to get 256 new red patrol cars in exchange for the same number of old ones—and $10,062 to boot.

Mayor Bernard Samuel disclosed yesterday that the city had accepted the offer of a dealer to replace the used police cars with new ones and pay a bonus of $39 in cash for each automobile traded in.

The dealer explained he would make his profit on the resale of the old cars.

MARTIN GETS HOUSE SLATE READY TO GO

Opening of Congress On Tuesday; Tax Bill Due For Early O. K.

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 3—A "quickie" tax cutting bill and a short-term foreign aid measure were marked for first attention in the house as Republican leaders laid plans today for the new session of congress.

Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts coupled those two items with rent control extension and federal budget reduction as part of the early "must" program for the legislators convening Tuesday.

To Indicate To White House
He said he expects the house to pass a tax reduction bill this month just to let the White House know what is on the way.

There are no plans for such rapid action in the senate, where some Republicans and many Democrats favor delaying tax legislation until the federal fiscal picture is clearer.

Martin said he has no particular measure in mind, but Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the house ways and means committee has ready a bill to cut $5,000,000,000 off the present tax load and knock an estimated 7,400,000 people off the rolls.

The extent to which taxes can be cut, Martin said at a news conference yesterday, will depend in large measure on the cooperation of the administration in helping cut expenses.

But he declared "it is absolutely essential to have tax reduction this year."

The form of tax legislation and other major measures probably will be shaped next week by the GOP steering committee whose blueprint house Republican policy. Martin himself favors a short-range foreign aid program as opposed to the four-year Marshall plan proposed by the administration.

He said congress must act soon on rent control legislation since the election law expires at the end of February. Indications are that it will be extended with no major changes.

The speaker also advocated a hike to 65 cents in the present 40-cent-an-hour minimum wage for non-organized industrial workers.

SPECTACULAR FIRE AT CINCINNATI FIRM

CINCINNATI, Jan. 3—A spectacular fire roared through the Asphalt Products Co., plant in the Oakley section of the city early today, causing damage estimated at $250,000.

Joseph Guttman, co-owner of the company, who estimated the damage, said the block-long, one-story brick structure was "virtually destroyed."

The fire raged out of control for a time and fire men still were pouring water on smoldering embers nine hours after the first alarm was sounded at 1 a. m.

Flames, fed by highly-inflammable materials used in making insulated siding, produced by the plant, roared 100 feet into the air at the height of the blaze, Fire Marshal Durward George reported.

He said he sounded second and third alarms after arriving at the scene and seeing "everything lit up by flames."

No one was in the building at the time of the fire, George said, and none of its pre-marital and prenatal blood tests for the ensuing year.

Origin of the fire was not traced immediately, George said.

Guttman and his brother, Louis, a co-owner, told newsmen the contents of the plant were valued at $100,000 and the building at $100,000. The company moved here from Chester, W. Va., four years ago, they said.

Now Is The Time, Etc.

The universal military training program continues to simmer. Ohio's Governor Herbert has proclaimed Jan. 5-12 as UMT Study Week and calls upon Ohioans to become fully informed on all phases of security preparedness and defense. In Washington, the house armed services committee, beginning Wednesday, will conduct three days of hearings to get top-level information on the nation's armed strength and its needs for the immediate future. Army discharges have gone so far ahead of enlistments that the top command is more concerned at the moment with the shortage of personnel, amid increasing international friction, than with UMT.

This is an opportunity for UMT's opponents to come forward with their arguments against the plan and, more important, what, if anything, they propose as a substitute. It has been said UMT would give the nation a "Magnet line complex," an illusion of strength and security.

Nationalized Railroads

Britain's Socialist government has reached an important milestone in its nationalization program. As of Jan. 1 the government took over the four great railway systems which before the war carried more passengers than all the lines in America.

The government's immediate goal is to operate the roads without subsidies and to eliminate the many duplicating lines. Its long-term goal is to retire more than $4,000,000,000 of debentures paid to stockholders, including the church of England, one of the largest.

Britain's experience in the railroad business will be watched with interest. Nationally-owned roads in France and Italy are subsidized, and the Canadian national on occasion has gone so deeply into the red that it has been a drain on the government. If any nationally-owned railroad system can operate at a profit, Britain's highly-developed short-haul system should be the one.

He's Their Boy

In the Communist Daily Worker, mention of Henry Wallace, Jefferson and Lincoln in the same paragraph is now standard procedure.

Says The Worker editorially: "The Wallace challenge is reaching deeply into American life, stirring memories of the great crusades of the past, rousing the heroic morality of America's great leaders who did not fear to fight entrenched greed however powerful it seemed. That's how Tom Jefferson got started. That's how Lincoln's party began. Down among the grass roots, where the sneers of the rich, the cowardice of the comfortable couldn't frighten anyone away."

Having failed to elect a corporate guard to office on their own, the Communists have climbed on the Wallace bandwagon. They'll scare off more votes than they bring him, but through their newspaper they assure him a wealth of adulatory bombast and florid prose.

Same Old Story

The first days of the New Year didn't indicate that 1948 would be an improvement over 1947. The Bible unions went on strike; in the south several towns were cleaning up after a tornado, and freezing rains coated wide areas in the north; 14 were killed in a Missouri train wreck; there was the usual scuffling in Greece and Palestine; jukeboxes were cut off from their source of supply, but it would be two years before the pipelines were empty; John L. Lewis sneered again at the A. F. L.

The New Year hasn't got off to an auspicious start, except for Coach Crisler of Michigan, and he has set such a high standard for himself he may come a cropper before 1948 ends.

What's The Trouble?

Something is wrong with the nation's domestic airlines. Their passenger and cargo business is larger than ever before, but so are their deficits. Their loss in 1946 was $7,000,000; for 1947 it will approach $12,000,000 meanwhile our overseas airlines are showing a profit.

This deserves the study of the Civil Aeronautics Board. Have passenger fares and freight tariffs been fixed on an erroneous basis? Are competing lines too much duplicating service? A study of the differences in operating policy between domestic and overseas lines would be in order otherwise the domestic lines may expand themselves out of business.

The Heat's On

Six scientists, experimenting on themselves have successfully withstood 15 minutes in a room heated to 250 degrees Fahrenheit.

With an investigation of alleged grain speculation by high government officials on the horizon, it may be that news of this experiment will be cheering to several members of both parties.

The Stars Say

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, January 4

SUNDAY'S horoscope encourages a day of rest, relaxation and reflection, with a period of introspection and cogitation rather than any active endeavors to reach concrete crises, born of rather seething undercurrents.

These new ideas and purposed plans for the future, begot of desire for change, travel and new contacts and arrangements in all life activities, are better for a time for incubation. Spiritual mediation could be illuminating.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are under a rule of stimulating energies and ideas, in which definite moves may be made more secure and lasting by a time of slow motion, in order to give really bright plans and patterns time for development.

A desire for change, travel, adventure, might be diverted to fresh enterprises or to new ways and means for putting over established propositions or projects of more than passing importance. Study and analysis calmly, since outside influences likewise consider co-operation. Keep alert to hidden factors or catchy side issues.

A child born on this day has a bright intellectual concept of things generally, with energy and purpose to put over its plans. But it might profit by pausing for behind-the-scenes developments.

For Monday, January 5

Monday's astrological forecast shows that while new, original, and really brilliant ideas and projects are distinctly "in the air" awaiting an adventurous and progressive individual to capture them and divert to material uses, there is a deeprooted peril ready to snap up the timorous or unwary.

Because of emotional or mysterious angles it might be dangerous to arouse false hopes, with schemes and tricks to lure the gullible. "Stop, look and listen," prudently, before venturing into the unknown.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, while having certain very definite and workable plans for the future, as well as present experimentation, are urged to subject all propositions, entertainments and alliances before either relinquishing their own ideas or adopting another's—until both be submitted to the acid test of reason, good sense and sound judgment.

Snares, tricks and subtleties hover in the background, to pounce upon the innocent, gullible or unwary. Vigilance and time should be the test of dubious situations or alliances, personal or business.

A child born on this day while active, energetic, intelligent and ready for adventure, might be caught in a whirlpool of snares, schemes or dubious connections.

Hotel homes from souvenir hunters amount to a million dollars annually. What are we supposed to do, throw ashes on our faces?

Some people achieve greatness, some are born great and some just arrive on you.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—The 1948 breed of bachelor is going to be a difficult target for leap year lassies.

I've talked with a number of young men who say they are open to reasonable marriage proposals, but since 1948 is the year for the ladies to pop the question—they want it done right.

Hal Boyle

This halterless lad said he thought it would be a nice old-fashioned touch if his girl knelt as she asked him to plight her troth.

"If they come to me I'll just tell them to get my father's permission first," said another bachelor.

The consensus was that they expected to be extremely careful about the whole thing and wouldn't be rushed off their feet by any headlong courtship.

HERE ARE A few tips, however, that ought to enable any enterprising girl to land her man.

First of all, don't try to dazzle him into marriage by throwing your money away on him in a gay mad sort of pleasure spots. Mere gold will not buy an honest boy's love.

You must remember that bachelors are delicate and brooding, and they want to be sure you are a dependable girl and sensitive to their moods.

When you call on your bachelor for your first date, try to win his confidence. Bring along a good book or a box of cigars—little presents like these let him know you want to please him.

Intimate gifts like underwear or shaving lotion should be avoided until you know each other better, and the family has come to understand your intentions toward him are truly serious.

WHERE TO TAKE HIM? Well, many young men don't like to huddle in dark smoky night clubs of questionable repute. It is better to begin by taking him to a movie or treating him to an evening of good clean fun in the neighborhood billiard parlor. Let him beat you a couple of games just for fun. He'll love you for it.

Be sure to get him home early. When you drop him at his door, don't try to kiss him. It will only alarm him and make him think you do that with all the other boys, too. A slight pressure on his warm little hand as you part will show your friendly interest.

Naturally as you get to know him better he will become more responsive, and in time the consideration you have shown will stir him to show his affection in his own boyish way.

It is now time to talk to him about your prospects. Let him know how much money you are making and convince him you both can live on it. If you own an electric washer, mention that. He will be interested in all the details.

The best place to propose to him is on the sofa, some night when his parents are away. Look deep into his eyes, hold his hand—and then just pour your heart out to him in simple terms. Tell him life is meaningless to you without him.

To clinch it, show him the two boat tickets for Bermuda you've bought for the honeymoon. Then fold the big trembling goof in your arms, sister—he's yours forever!

Butler Art Institute

TOJO LOSES FACE—KEEPS APPETITE

JUST BEFORE MAKING his now-famous 55,000 word deposition to the Far East War Crimes Trial Court in Tokyo, former Premier Hideki Tojo (left) eats a hearty holiday season special dinner. In his voluminous statement, read by his attorney, Tojo took full responsibility for the Pearl Harbor attack and for Japan's defeat. He insisted that he did not think any international law had been violated. (International)

Night And Day Gamble With Death Daily Affair For Seaman

BY MATT R. KRAMER

NEWPORT, Ore., Jan. 2 — The night-and-day gamble with death goes on for Navy Lt. D. F. Winslow just as it did in the war.

Lt. Winslow is mine disposal expert for the navy on this stretch of the Pacific shore. For him the war may go on for years—or 350 pounds of Japanese explosive may end it suddenly.

Along some 400 miles of Oregon and Washington beach, he protects Americans from themselves.

Hundreds, perhaps thousands, of Japanese mines still bob about in the Pacific or are anchored so that storms can tear them loose. Many drift into the coastal shipping lanes, pushed across 5,000 miles of ocean by the Japanese current. Coast Guard cutters are kept busy blowing them up.

Get Through Screen
Occasionally one gets through the coast guard screen, and then the ever-curious beach visitor finds a mysterious horned iron ball, three feet high and filled with sudden death.

Winslow's problem is to get to the mine before the curious blast themselves to limbo. So far, he has been in time.

As soon as a mine is reported, a guard is sent to the scene and Winslow is notified at the 13th naval district headquarters in Seattle.

When he arrives, he waves the guard back and gingerly begins his inspection. Despite their long time in the water, most mines are ready to explode when one of the horns is bent.

Inside the horn is a glass vial. It breaks when the horn is bent and its liquid runs into a battery, which comes alive and provides the current that sets off the 350 pounds of explosive.

Sometimes Winslow must roll the mine over—a ticklish job—to get at the base plate. He unbolts the plate, a foot in diameter, nervously listening for booby traps. He never has found one, but he never fails to listen—a habit that stems from the days when he helped the British disarm mines and bombs.

"The Germans booby-trapped everything," he explains.

With the plate loosened, he reaches inside with pliers to snip the wires to the detonator. After that, it is simple.

A stick of dynamite goes inside, connected to a wire that he unrolls to a point several hundred yards away. There he connects it to an electric striker and blows the works.

Has Destroyed 15
Winslow has destroyed about 15 Japanese mines, but the busy season is just coming on—winter currents carry more mines ashore.

One weekend he got a hurry-up call from Gearhart, Ore., where a mine was beached near a small community. That one had to be disarmed and dragged by jeep two miles down the beach to a deserted spot. It was nearly midnight before he could set it off.

Then he jumped into his car and drove 40 miles down the coast highway to take care of another one drifting in there. He exploded it at 3 a. m. before he could return to Seattle, two more were reported on beaches near here.

Winslow, who has been in the Navy 18 years, got his start in this job in England during the blitz. He was there as an observer and went through a British bomb disposal school. Of the 500 others in the school, he estimates 50 survive.

After the U. S. got in the war, Winslow served both in bomb disposal and mine disposal units.

Familiarity has not lessened his respect for mines. While a reporter and a photographer peeked over shallow dunes within 100 yards of him, Winslow crouched behind a deep bank 200 yards away to set off a mine near here. The earth shook, metal whistled through the air and a giant smoke puff spread out.

Wet from a dripping rain, Winslow looked at a tide table and decided to go back to town for coffee before walking three miles down the beach to set off another derelict.

E. LIVERPOOL MAYOR WARS ON GAMBLING
EAST LIVERPOOL, Jan. 3—This city's new mayor, Harry C. Smith, a war veteran, clamped down the lid on gambling here a few hours after he took office Thursday.

Under his instructions police ordered four suspected gaming houses to close. One alleged card-room operator failed to heed the warning, whereupon Police Lt. John W. Russell and Patrolman Albert Klittridge, raided the place, on the second floor of what is known as the American pool room.

A man identified as Freddy McCormick was arrested on a charge of permitting gambling and seven others were charged with loitering in a gambling place.

They were released on bonds totaling $168 for appearance in municipal court.

The souls of dead people return and may even marry mortals, according to a belief of the Papuans, a tribe of New Guinea.

LANA TO WED TIN-PLATE HEIR

Actress LANA TURNER and Henry Topping, Jr. (inset) the tin plate heir, will be married as soon as his divorce from actress Anne Judge is final, according to a disclosure in the film colony. Formal announcement will be made by the couple, according to the Los Angeles Examiner, on Jan. 9 at one of the biggest night club parties ever given in Hollywood. Topping has been married three times, Miss Turner twice.

Skiing in Style

New ski clothes are warm but lightweight. White cotton poplin, zelan-treated to shed snow, makes the jacket, above. Red braid accents the long slim lines. Deep armholes, elasticized waistband and zipper closing insure freedom of action. Blue cotton poplin jacket, left, has double yoke in contrasting color to give shoulders extra protection against icy winds and snow.

Couple Observes 50th Anniversary

Gold and white tones were combined in the beautiful decorations in the social room of the Concord Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. John S. Weaver, Ellsworth rd., observed their 50th wedding anniversary there at an open house reception.

Approximately 125 relatives and friends from Salem, Youngstown, Canfield and Greenford called to offer congratulations.

Mrs. Wilbur Weaver and daughter, Martha, and Miss Grace Weaver, served refreshments including a lured wedding cake.

Mr. Weaver, oldest member of Concord church, is an elder emeritus.

The couple, who have spent their married life in Green township, have four children, Wilbur J., of near Greenford; Charles G. and Herbert T., of Salem, and Grace, at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gamble Mark Anniversary

Five guests who attended the original wedding were present when Mr. and Mrs. Homer S. Gamble of Winona celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Thursday with an open house reception from 2 to 5 p. m. at their home. They were Mrs. Rosa Morgan of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Camp and son, Raymond, of East Palestine, and Mrs. Lafayette Coffee of Winona.

The celebration arranged by their children, was a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Gamble.

Flowers, among the gifts received by the couple, decked the home.

A lured wedding cake was served with the refreshments. The 125 guests were from Salem, Cleveland, North Georgetown, Columbiana, Diamond, New Garden and Winona.

Lena M. Bohner and Homer S. Gamble were married on New Year's day, 1908, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Camp, which at the time was on S. Lincoln ave.

They have six children, Wilfred E., Carl S., Alfred, Mrs. Lawrence Clewell, Mrs. Robert Ward and Homer, Jr., all of whom reside in Winona and vicinity, and 15 grandchildren. They were all at the celebration.

Initiation Planned By Eastern Star

Initiation will feature a meeting of Salem chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Masonic temple. Lunch will be served.

Ohio Chief Executive Takes Bride In Indian- apolis Today

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 3.—A romance which began in 1946 when Ohio Governor Thomas J. Herbert went to a doctor's office for medical treatment of a World War I wound will be culminated in his marriage today to the physician's secretary, Miss Mildred Helen Stevenson.

The marriage ceremony uniting the white-haired-chief executive of the neighboring state and his Indianapolis fiancée will be read at 11:30 a. m. (C. S. T.) by Rev. Oscar Olsen of the Epworth-Euclid Methodist church, Cleveland, in McKee chapel of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church here.

The informal wedding was to be attended only by members of the families and a few guests headed by Indiana Governor and Mrs. Ralph F. Gates and their daughter, Patricia.

Governor and Mrs. Gates were hosts last night at a small wedding dinner for the couple and their party. A wedding breakfast at the Columbia club was to follow the ceremony and then Governor Herbert and his bride were to leave by private airplane for a two-week stay at Miami, Fla.

Family Dinner Held

The Stirling family held a delightful gathering Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Stirling, Pine and W. Pershing sts.

A coverdish supper was enjoyed and the hours spent informally. William Stirling of Cleveland and James Lake of Cuyahoga Falls were out-of-town guests.

The Nation Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—Congress comes back to work Jan. 6 for a big and busy year.

Besides the lawmaking which lies ahead, 1948 is election year for most members of congress.

All the members of the house, and one-third of the members of the senate, will have to stand for re-election this year if they want to keep their jobs.

So the voters, who some of them, will have the elections in mind as they watch the work of their congressmen in 1948.

If you're a bit hazy about congress and its work, here's a brief refresher.

What's congress? It's made up of two houses: The

Would Follow King All Over the World

By VERNER FORCHHAMMER

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 3—Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma, for whose love King Michael of Romania reportedly quit his throne, told the Danish newspaper Politiken:

"I am prepared to follow him all over the world, wherever he desires."

The princess called the newspaper yesterday to make known her story, which was published today.

She said, "I met him in London and it was love at first sight. I could not have believed this would happen. We have no plans for the future, but I had hoped—before the abdication—to see him in April."

"I had planned to go to America shortly, but after what has happened now, I have given this up and await his call."

The 26-year-old princess was obviously distraught. Asked whether she had tried to contact Michael, she replied:

"I tried the whole day yesterday to phone him or his friends, but I always got the same answer, 'all lines are blocked.'"

U.S. CUSTOMS

ON HER ARRIVAL at LaGuardia Field, N. Y., from the U. N. Human Rights Commission meeting at Geneva, Switzerland, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is met by her son, Franklin Jr. She told newsmen that the Commission, of which she is chairman, "did a very good piece of work for the Russian delegation's co-operation despite their abstention from voting on human bill of rights."

SENATE, with 96 members, and the house of representatives, with 435.

The two houses have separate chambers, or meeting places, on opposite sides of the capitol where they debate and vote.

Congress passes the federal laws. Both houses, by a simple majority vote, must approve a measure before it can become law.

IF CONGRESS PASSES something which the President does not want to become law, he can say so and refuse to sign it. This is the veto.

A veto kills a measure unless congress then re-passes it by a two-thirds vote. A simple majority vote isn't enough to pass anything into law over a veto.

What's a congressman? He's a member of the senate or house. Usually a senator is called a senator. A member of the house usually is called a congressman.

A senator must be 30 years old, a citizen of the United States nine years, and a resident of the state which elects him.

A representative must be 25, a U. S. citizen seven years, and a resident of the state, although not necessarily of the district, which elects him.

How many senators and representatives can a state have?

Every state has two senators. So the smallest state, in size or population, always has the same number of senators as the largest.

But the number of representatives from a state is based on population. The bigger the population, the more representatives it has.

So Delaware, Nevada, Vermont and Wyoming, with the smallest populations, each has only one representative. New York, with the largest population, has 45.

But those same small states—Delaware, Nevada, Vermont, Wyoming—have the same number of senators as big New York: two each.

How are senators and representatives elected?

Senators are elected for six years each, representatives for two years only.

So every two years—in even numbered years, such as 1948—all 435 house members must stand for re-election.

What pay do congressmen get?

Senators and representatives get the same. They get a flat salary of $12,500 a year. They must pay tax on it, just as you do on your income.

They get an added $2,500, which is tax-free. This is for expenses. But, since they don't have to account for what they do with that $2,500, they can keep it or spend it for expenses.

So their total income as congressmen is $15,000 a year.

The government provides them with offices in the senate and house office buildings and pays the salary of a limited number of assistants, such as secretaries.

Second Guessing

By DON E. BEATTIE
News Sports Editor

DEPARTMENT OF MUSING
Coach Bob Miller was pleased with his team's showing last night... He feels that with a little more ironing out of the roughness in passing and timing, the boys can really go... He wasn't pleased, however, over the third period situation—when Salem was out-scored 14-4 and nearly lost its grip on the lead...

Dayton seemed completely unaware of anything or anyone like Bob Payer when they arrived... For Coach Virg Frews started right out with a straight man-to-man defense (just one guy on Bob) and kept at it all the way... Payer had 13 of his 22 in the first half and it looked like a big night for him... It would have been, too, if he had hit well on fouls... He missed seven gift points that way... His shot mark was nine goals in 24 tries.

Just as a matter of interest, Payer was fouled 10 times in the game... One guy went out trying to stop him and another had four personals against him... That was 10 of 17 personals charged against Dayton used on Payer... Salem had exactly 17 called against them...

The Quaker foul-shooting is definitely not good and it's going to be costly one of these nights... Only six in 21 isn't anything... Write home about anything you're concerned over the poor... Salem out-scored Dayton 24-24 on the floor but lost out 10-6 on fouls... A big lead can dwindle that way...

ITEMS OF INTEREST: Dayton's season record reads like this: Dayton 38, Xenia Central 26; Dayton 31, Hamilton 34; Dayton 57, Kenton 47; Dayton 46, Sidney 30; Dayton 46, Troy 47 (overtime) and Dayton 49, Olive Branch 35... The visitors come from a home floor 80 feet by 50 feet, somewhat bigger all around than Salem's... They report Hamilton's floor "about the same as Salem's"... Herb Brown, former Salem coach who scouted Fairview for Bob Miller, reports that Dayton is "one of the outstanding teams in the Dayton district"... The team travels to Newark for a game tonight...

DEPT. OF CONJECTURE
Looking over the district basketball results last night one begins to wonder about a couple of future Salem foes...

For instance, East Liverpool, faced with an exceptionally tight defense last night, dropped a 34-27 nod to Ashabula. The winners were among the four finalists last year at Columbus in Class A with the mighty Potters... The only thing is that Ashabula has two of its five veterans back, Liverpool none... The Potters are said to be very fast and clever again this year... Salem goes there next Friday evening...

George McKinstry's East Palestine Bulldogs remained undefeated Friday night at Wellsville in very impressive style... They lashed the Bengals 52-20, allowing only six baskets... Salem whipped Wellsville 52-24 there... That county game here on Feb. 6 may be very interesting... McKinstry has been scouting Salem like a beaver... He knows the boys as well as most Salem fans... Evidently the Bulldogs are "pointed" this way in basketball, too...

ODDS AND ENDS
Two Salemites who had more than the coming of the New Year to observe on Jan. 1 were Ben Barry, football coach, and T. E. "Emmy" Smith, former vice president of the Boosters club... Both were born on New Year's...

The Memorial building basketball leagues, operating only half-heartedly prior to and during the holiday season, really get rolling this week and will continue so until the end of the season... The schedules are carried in today's columns... Speaking of paradoxes in sport, the Dayton Fairview faculty manager, E. G. Wiens, astonished Sa-

Hall's Charges Foiled By Tight Ashtabula Defense; Betts Held Down

ASHTABULA, Jan. 3—Ashtabula, one of the state's four Class A tournament finalists last spring, dropped East Liverpool, the state's Class A runnerup, 34-27, in a tightly played contest here Friday evening.

It was a low-scoring, hard-fought game all the way, the Lake lads keeping a slight edge on the Potters from the start.

Coach Merrill Hall's charges couldn't hit the hoop, high-scoring Jack Betts getting only four points. It was his lowest total of the season.

The loss was the fourth in six games for Hall's charges and the victory the fifth for Ashtabula. The Potter reserves won 25-14 in the preliminary.

East Liverpool travels to Bellaire tonight and meets Salem at Liverpool next Friday.

Will Take Check On No. 1 Outfit

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 3—The Associated Press is polling sports editors of its member papers throughout the country to help settle the argument as to which is the better football team—Michigan or Notre Dame.

The AP's final poll of the top 10 teams, released Dec. 8 at the conclusion of the regular season, resulted in Notre Dame winning first place with 1,410 points. Michigan was second with 1,289.

While the latest poll—which will be released to afternoon papers of Tuesday, Jan. 6—will not supersede the regular season-end poll, it is intended to serve as a final summing up of opinion on the two teams.

Each paper is to ballot on which team it likes—as of now—Michigan or Notre Dame—as a result of Michigan's 49-0 Rose Bowl victory over Southern California. Notre Dame beat U.S.C. 38-7 in the final game of the regular season upon which the last previous AP poll was taken.

Pager, Kelly High Scorers As Olexio Dumps In 20 Points For Visiting Five

By DON E. BEATTIE

With scintillation comparable to the best of the stars in the first half and luster like a lump of coal in the third period, Salem's Quakers regained their composure in the fourth quarter Friday to stave off a determined Dayton Fairview team, 40-34, and mark up their fifth straight scholastic triumph of the season.

The feat—which featured the scoring of Bob Payer and Virgil Kelly and the scrap of Tommy Miner, Carl Ciccozzi and Eddie Bozich on defense—was performed excitingly before some 1,400 to 1,500 fans in the local gym.

Dayton, oddly enough, looked like a pushover for the locals in the first half, but came out at the half to scare the pantaloon off the Quakers before the third frame was over.

Boasting a 25-11 bulge at the half, the somewhat laggard-like Quakers stood by, taking only four shots in the first six minutes of the third, as Dayton went sizzling along for 14 big points to a mere four for Salem.

The score as the third period ended was 29-25 with the locals looking just a bit on the shaky side.

But the fourth found them with some spirit left and they out-distanced the visitors from down south by an 11-9 edge in the final to win.

Again it was Big Bob who hit the hoop the most, scoring 22 points to bring his six-game total to 117—and average of 19½ per game.

But Big Bob wasn't himself on defense and didn't have the zip there he usually shows. He was off on foul shooting, too. He missed seven of 11 attempts—most of them at a crucial time in the contest.

Virgil Kelly collected his season's best, 14 points, but continued to show a like amount of misfires on defense and at passing. It was Kelly's best all-around game this year, but it leaves plenty to be desired from the Senior veteran.

The three "little boys" who started—Ciccozzi, Miner and Bozich, were hog-wild around the boards and on defense. They gained the plaudits of the spectators on sheer scrap and speed, despite the fact that points

LEETONIA DROPS FOURTH CONTEST BY 41-38 MARGIN

Bud Dean's somewhat unlucky quintet from Leetonia lost another close one Friday night, dropping a 41-38 contest to Canfield at Leetonia before a nearly filled and unusually excited host of fans.

Eddie Sullivan was having another good night, totaling 10 points and Rutzky did all right, too, but the points just didn't pile up high enough for victory. Sullivan, the county's fourth best scorer, now has 61 for five games.

The Leetonians dropped a 13-11 lead soon after the second frame began and never hopped far enough ahead to remain there. It was 34 to 28 when the finale began and the Bears almost made the grade.

The Canfield reserves won 39-16 in the preliminary.

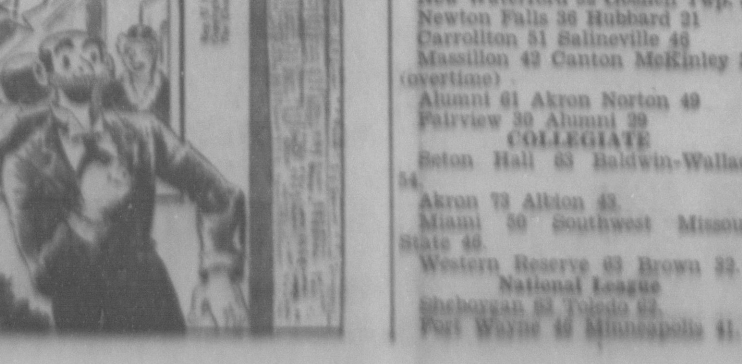

The loss was Leetonia's fourth in five varsity games.

Contract Happy

Nice feature about the contracts awaiting Johnny Berardino's signature in Hollywood is that the infielder-actor doesn't have to reject either. The former St. Louis Brown will appear in pictures during the off-season for producer Richard Polimer, left, and play baseball for Bill Vecek of the Cleveland Indians.

See Higher Class Of Sport Competition This Year; No Attendance Records Expected

BY OSCAR FRALEY
U. P. Sports Writer
NEW YORK — Sports fans will witness a much higher class of competition in 1948, leaders in the various field predicted today, with boxing, tennis and horse racing leading in the crowning of many new champions.

Out of the crystal ball comes the prophecy that Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis and light Heavyweight Gus Lesnevich will retire and interest will boom in baseball because of wide open pennant races caused by classy rookie crop.

Leaders in sports see it this way: Will Harridge, American League president: "The best all around rookie crop since before the war should help every American League club. Winter trades should make for a hot first division battle.

Prospects generally are bright for a fine year and the law of averages should take care of the pesky rain and cold which plagues out western clubs the first two months of 1947."

Holcombe Ward, U. S. L. T. A. president: "Jack Kramer's retirement throws the fields wide open. Australia will challenge for the Davis cup and, while it will be close, we should win."

Spencer Drayton, Thoroughbred racing protective bureau: "We had one of our smoothest years in 1947 and expect 1948 to be on an even higher plane. Racing must be honest and highly competitive and, under those standards, the sport should be at its all time best."

Al Mayer, wrestling impresario: "There will be no universal world champion crowned in 1948." And none is more certain of fulfillment than the one made by the guy who handles the grunt and groans.

Sport Chatter

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK—Sheppard Barnes, incoming president of the Metropolitan Golf association, marked his inaugural by blasting at "semi-professionalism" and big pools and sweepstakes... From here it seems that Barnes is on the right track... Golf can be an expensive game for amateurs but it also offers plenty of opportunities for real pros... And our idea is that anyone who can't play golf just for the enjoyment, with no bets involved, doesn't really like the game... Speaking of blasts, we hope the Olympic hockey fuss is settled soon so there won't be any more of those wordy, and often slightly misleading, effusions from both sides... And why not let the hockey players decide what organization they want to represent them?

"You won't find it in the record books, but it is a certainty that in the early days of the National league—in 1880—Buffalo had an outfielder who twice had four assists in one game." Writes Diamond historian Ernie Lanigan... For years the record books listed George Gore of the Giants as having had five of the assists in the outfield, but when the matter was tracked down it was found that Gore didn't have any assists that day and Pitcher William George had the five... Now the little red book lists two names "and many others," at four each.

East Palestine Keeps Unmarried Record 52-20

WELLSVILLE, Jan. 3—The ram-paging East Palestine Bulldogs, still with an unmarried record, dumped a hapless Wellsville Bengal crew 52-20 here Friday before some 1,200 fans.

It was East Palestine's fifth straight win and the winners accomplished their feat with plenty of impressiveness. Don Aldrich, the county's second highest scorer, dumped through 15 points to boost his total to 51 and his game-average to 16 per try.

Bauknecht did all right too, getting 13. Coach George McKinstry was well pleased with the showing. It was Wellsville's fifth loss in six. The Palestine reserves triumphed by a 50-20 margin in the first game.

ment at a hospital. Both trains were operated by Florida East Coast Railway. (International Soundphoto)

Railroad Assists
Columblana Plants

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 3.—Colum-blana shippers, who have been somewhat handicapped by the shortage of box cars, obtained relief Wednesday, when the Pennsylvania railroad set off 33 empties here. A few were for transfer to the Youngstown & Southern, and the remainder for loading here.

The National Rubber Machinery
Co., however, has been able to make its shipments punctually, both for its export and internal trade.
Invoices have accumulated in some of the other plants.

• OBITUARY

ORLAN DICKEY

LISBON, Jan. 3.—Orlan Dickey, 81, well-known Elkrum township resident, died this morning at the home of Frank S. Armstrong, east of Elkton, where he had made his home for three years.

He was a retired farmer and had been in ill health for several years. Born in Elkrum township
July 22, 1866, he was the son of Hamilton and Mary Jane Armstrong Dickey.

His wife, the former Anna Griffin, died in 1941.

Surviving are two sons, Carl H.
of Livermore, Calif., and Kenneth
R. of Vallejo, Calif.; eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at the Armstrong home at 2 p. m.
Monday in charge of Rev. C. E.
Richardson. Burial will be in Kenble's cemetery.

Friends may call at the home
Sunday afternoon and evening.

MRS. EDWARD GREEN

EAST LIVERPOOL, Jan. 3.—
Rites will be held Sunday at Salineville for Mrs. Edward Gerren, 62, of the Salineville-Lisbon road, who died Friday.

Six sons, including Clifford Ger-ren of Salem, and Carl Gerren of Canton, and two brothers, including Andy Rouse of Toronto, are among the survivors.

Burial will be in the Sugar Grove cemetery in Jefferson county.

Seek Polio Funds

AKRON, Jan. 3.—A $100,000 fund to fight polio has been set as the goal of the Summit county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in its drive this month. The sum nearly equals the amount spent here during 1947, when the city's worst epidemic in years resulted in 415 polio cases and six deaths.
